

Australia Awards in Africa Call for Scholarship Applications - PhD Awards 2014

An investment in the development of African men and women is an investment in the future of the continent

The Australian Government is committed to developing capacity and leadership skills in Africa. Over the past three years, the number of Australia Awards in Africa has increased ten-fold to a total of 1,000 scholarships annually. One-quarter of all Australian Government development scholarships are now directed to Africa.

Applications are now invited from African nationals from eligible countries for PhD Awards in Agriculture for studies commencing in 2014.

For PhD Awards, only studies in agriculture and food security will be supported. Candidates with linkages to one of the Australian government funded food security initiatives are especially encouraged to submit an application.

Australia Awards are offered in sectors prioritized by partner African Governments in areas where Australia has a reputation for world-class expertise and experience

Applications for PhD awards opened on 1 September 2012 and the deadline for submission of applications for PhDs in Agriculture is 31 March 2013
